Compromise Is Seen in Truce Deadlock

Allied Air Loss Greatest Since Korea War Began

16 U. S. Planes Are Reported Lost During Past Seven Days.

Seoul, Korea, Sunday, Jan. 13 (AP)—The U. S. Far East Air Forces announced Saturday theri costliest week of the air war in Korea—three Sabre jets shot down in dogfights and 13 other planes destroyed by Communist ground fire.

FEAF listed Communist losses for the period—the week ended Friday—as 12 Russian-built MIGs shot down and 14 damaged in air battles. The Air Force reports Red losses from day to day, but now lists Allied losses only by the week.

Average Is Seven

An Air Force spokesman said the weekly average Allied loss since last spring has been about seven planes. Recent weeks have averaged 10 planes—attesting to the growing challenge of Red air power and anti-aircraft.

The 12 MIGs shot down during the past week brought to 210 the number of swift Red jet fighters destroyed by Allied planes since the beginning of the war. FEAF said 51 others were probably destroyed and 325 damaged.

Communist losses of all types of planes were listed as: 336 destroyed, 100 probably destroyed and 380 damaged.

(In Washington, the Air Force announced United Nations aerial losses from all cases exceed 900 since the war's beginning. The figure is said to include 532 Navy and carrier-based marine planes through Oct. 1—of which 215 were lost through enemy action.)

Revise Figures

In Tokyo, the Air Force was working to consolidate all losses more exactly, but said the best available figure thus far was 423 U. S. Air Force combat planes lost to enemy action through Jan. 11.

The 423 figure did not include losses by attached units such as South Africans, Australians, U.S. Marines, Republic of Korea, Army liaison types, service plane losses or Navy planes.

The Air Force said it applied only to U. S. combat types, such as B-29 superforts, B-26 light bombers and fighter-bomber and fighter types.

There were three brief dogfights over Northwest Korea Saturday, but no damage to either side was reported. Sabre jet pilots spotted some 200 MIGs north of the Yalu River, in Manchuria, but only about half ventured south of the border into North Korea.

After all these years in which I've made cracks about Wichita Falls, one of the finest letters I've ever read comes from that city. It is a letter written by a Wichitan in making a contribution to the Tommy Yates fund. Incidentally, the check was for a round $100, and great though that sum is, the letter may be worth more. It reads:

"Enclosed please find my check made payable to the Tommy Yates fund.

"I have been watching this fund since it started, and it makes you very sad when you think of a four-year-old child who (through no fault of his own, and who couldn't possibly have committed any wrong or broken any of the commandments, will be a cripple the rest of his life.

"The saddest part of it to me, though, is the lack of interest the people in Wilbarger and surrounding counties have shown toward this fund. I understand that as of this date it is only five hundred dollars. Of course, when you understand people as you and I do, you can sum it all up in one word. This same word is the cause of our world's being in the condition that it is in. That is the word, "selfish."

"If everyone in Wilbarger and surrounding counties would send the Tommy Yates fund just one dime, it would be enough to take care of Tommy until he is old

Shivers Asks Re-Election To Lead Texas Democrats In Fight Against Truman

Austin, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today asked re-election to lead Texas Democrats in a fight against President Truman and his policies.

He promised a stern battle at home and through the National Democratic convention at Chicago, and refused to pledge advance support of the convention's nominee for President.

If President Truman is renominated, Shivers said he would come home for further orders from Texas Democrats. He added he had never failed to support the National convention"s nominee and hoped he always could. The governor also said he thought President Truman would step out, and hoped a compromise candiate suitable to the South could be found.

Shivers' announcement that he would run for re-election brought handclapping from more than 200 editors and publishers at a mid-winter meeting of the Texas Press Association. His statement that he did not consider Truman a suitable nominee was met even more enthusiastically with "hurrays" thrown in.

The announcement for reelection was in lien with speculation that he would not oppose Senator Tom Connally this summer, although he had been often mentioned for this race. It leaves the way clear for Atty. Gen. Price Daniel to battle Connally. Daniel will say what his plans aer Jan. 21.

Shivers, 44, has been governor since Beauford H. Jester's death July 10, 1949. He was re-elected to his first full term, and now seeks a second elective term..

He said he was influenced in deciding to run for governor rather than for U. S. Senator by a desire to live in Texas with his family and continue working at a solution for numerous problems facing the state.

In national party politics he has been anti-administration and had advocated settling party fusses within the party.

The Texas governor told the editors and publishers at the televised press conference that his personal choice for the Democratic nomination would be Senator Richard Russell of Georgia. He said, in response to other questions, that he thought Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia would be all right; that he didn't know what Senator Estes Kefauver stood for except he was "against crime." As for Speaker Sam Rayburn: "I would like to find out what his views are."

Shivers got into Texas politics at the age of 26 when he was elected State Senator. He served three terms, was in the Army during World War II, and was named Lieutenant Governor in 1946. The Shivers have three children.

Johnson Scores Armed Services

New York, Jan. 12. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) wound up two days of hearings today with a blast at the armed services for a "very obvious security muddle" over a once top-secret Greenland Air Base.

Witnesses before a Senate preparedness investigating subcommittee said the "Blue Jay" project was considered secret by Army engineers at the time the Air Force and Department of Defense were describing it in news releases.

When "Moscow Molly"—a cold war counterpart of Tokyo Rose—began broadcasting to the secret project apparently to disrupt workers' morale, the Air Force dropped the secret label, one witness said.

The base is designed to handle giant B-36 bombers and jet planes and would be a valuable stepping-stone on the over-the-world route to Russia.

Col. Morton Solomon, district engineer for the northeast area, said that while newspapers were publishing stories about "Blue Jay," the government was paying $1,668 monthly to four Pinkerton detectives to guard project papers at the engineers' New York office.

He said some details of the base are still top secret.

Sen. Johnson asked Maj. Gen. G. J. Nold, deputy chief of engineers to supply the committee with the secret information at a closed session soon.

"We are told," Johnson said, "that considerable waste has occurred because of faulty or inadequate engineering work in laying out strips."

Optimists Give To Yates Fund

Directors of the Vernon Optimist Club, meeting here Friday afternoon, voted to donate $25 to the Tommy Yates Fund. The fund, held by Judge A. D. Green, who is acting as trustee, now totals above $500. The four-year-old victim of a Christmas Eve beating by his mother, is still partially paralyzed and is recuperating in a Dallas hospital.

Members of the Optimist Club sell Christmas trees each year to augment their boys work fund. It is from this fund that many such donations are made. They thanked the many Vernon people who bought the trees last year, thereby helping to expand the boys work program.

Ten Men Facing Draft on Jan. 24

Ten men have been issued calls for induction on Jan. 24 from Local Board 131 in Vernon, according to Selective Service officials.

One from Hardeman County and nine from Wilbarger County make up the induction call. They include Edd Lewis from Hardeman County and Hopson J. Limburg, Calvin Boyd, Hillie Bennett, Jr., Ernest R. Baker, Elton W. Reinisch, Kenneth Williams, Billie G. Haynes, Darrell E. Lambert and Billy J. Franks.

A call for re-examination of 30 IV-F classified registrants has been received for Jan. 25 by the local board. If any of these registrants have failed to report any recent change in status, such as dependents, change in physical status or address, they have been urged to file new information with the board immediately.

Since receiving IV-F classifications many of the registrants have failed to keep their files at the local office up to date and may now be eligible for other exemptions under the new law, especially now that they are eligible for armed force processing under new examination standards (new I-A classification if they are acceptable upon re-examination) or have failed to comply with the regulations concerning current information which, if filed, would make them eligible for applicable classifications.

An induction call has also been set for Feb. 13 for 13 men, the local board announced.

A pre-induction call of 25 men has been received for Feb. 6. This group will be composed of 1-A registrants, 21 years of age or older.

Plane With Five Aboard Missing

Fairbanks, Alaska, Jan. 12. (AP)—An Air Force plane with five men aboard was missing in the Alaska interior today after the pilot radioed he was "hopelessly lost."

The plane, a C-47, was on a round trip training flight from Eielson Air Force Base near here to Umiat, 300 miles north of Fairbanks.

The distress message came at 12:45 a. m. (4:45 a. m. CST). It said the pilot thought he was near Northway, Alaska, which is 250 miles south of Fairbanks.

By 9 a. m., the plane would have been out of gasoline.

Planes from Ladd Field, Alaska; Eielson Base 26 miles south of here, and Elmendorf Air Force Base at Anchorage immediately started a wide search.

They were hampered by heavy snowfall which made visibility poor and by the uncertainty concerning the pilot's last reported location.

Vishinsky Comes Up With Another Plan to Disarm

Ban on Atomic Weapons and International Control Are Proposals.

Paris, Jan. 12 (AP)— Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky proposed today a simultaneous ban on atomic weapons and international control of atomic energy on a "continuing basis." He called this a "tremendous and momentous step forward" and challenged the west to match his action.

Vishinsky also renewed his demands for urgent consideration of the Korea issue and called for an immediate cease-fire, with the opposing forces to withdraw from the 38th parallel in 10 days. He called for the withdrawal of all foreign forces and volunteers from Korea in three months.

Vishinsky made his move in the political committee of the U. N. General Assembly in what he said was an attempt to meet the demands of the West.

When Vishinsky tossed a revised resolution before the political committee at the end of a two-hour speech, Ambassador Ernest A. Gross United States, said his delegation would study it carefully.

The Soviet Union in 1948 demanded the conclusion of simultaneous conventions prohibiting the atomic weapons and setting up controls. That was rejected by the U.N. Assembly at that time—but Vishinsky insisted today his proposal for simultaneous prohibition and control was completely new.

Cishinsk also carried on a post-mortem battle against a Western-proposed plan to meet the threat of aggression in the world through collective action. The U.N. adopted that plan over Soviet bloc objections this morning.

Vishinsky asid the collective measures and disarmament proposals just adopted never would come into force as long as fighting continued in Korea.

Texas Paper Asks Taft To Withdraw

Dallas, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Dallas Morning News, in an open letter to Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, has asked Taft to withdraw from the race for the Republican nomination in favor of Gen. Eisenhower.

It also asked why not Eisenhower as a Democratic nominee, too?

"You can perform no greater service than by withdrawing your candidacy in favor of Ike Eisenhower," the letter to Taft read.

"The nation, far more than the Republican party, needs unanimity. Why not Eisenhower as a Democratic nominee, too? With one action, the doubts and suspicions that attach to the executive department would be swept away.

"Your withdrawal in favor of Eisenhower could clear the way for that possibility, too."

The letter said that the chances for Taft to carry the South are remote, but that Eisenhower more than likely could.

It said that the News does not believe that Taft could carry Texas, but that "Eisenhower would carry this state against Truman or any Truman heir."

A jury panel of 36 men has been called for the trial.

Tommy Yates Ruled Ward Of State at Hearing Friday

As an anti-climax to the Simpson trial, which saw Mrs. Robert Dale Simpson receive a 10 year prison term for the brutal Christmas Eve beating of her four-year-old son, Tommy Yates, only one spectator and two reporters were present to hear Judge Jesse Owens declare the frail youngster a "neglected and dependent" child and a ward of the 46th Judicial Court.

The parental right suit was held in District Court late Friday afternoon. Mrs. Simpson was not present at the hearing.

Judge Owens, in making the ruling, stated that the Court was taking into consideration the evidence in the trial of Mrs. Simpson and a conference with the maternal grandmother of the child.

Ben Woodington, county juvenile officer, was named temporary guardian of the child until such time as the condition of the youngster improves and he can be placed in a proper home.

Judge Owens' ruling said that he "found William Thomas Yates has no proper parental care and that the Simpsons are not proper parents."

He further ruled that the grandmother was not the proper person to care for the child and added that even before the youngster came into the jurisdiction of the court that it had not had a proper home.

Judge Owens then said that when the child has recovered sufficiently to allow placement in some home, that he would ask Judge A. D. Green, Wilbarger County Judge, to cooperate with him in placing the child in a proper home.

"Judge Green, as trustee for the Tommy Yates' fund, has given graciously of his time in this matter," Judge Owens said. "I will act largely upon his recommendation when final placement of the child comes before the court."

The fund for the frail beating victim is over $500 in Vernon now and still growing.

Meanwhile, little Tommy is still in a semi-paralyzed and mute condition in a Dallas hospital. Although his condition is said to be improving daily, hospital attendants are afraid that he may never walk or speak again.

With a twinkle in his eye, he quipped to reporters who gave him an honorary press card to the Canadian Parliament gallery: "I was about to give you the unusual spectacle of seeing me drink a glass of water but Canadian hospitality has taken a more stimulating form."

Nominations For Citizen Award Asked

Nominations are now being taken for the recipient of the annual "outstanding citizen award" given annually by the Vernon junior Chamber of Commerce.

The nominations may be sent to W B. Smith, Jaycee president, in care of the Chamber of Commerce office. All nominations received will be considered for the award.

The award is presented to the Vernon citizen who, in the decision of the judges composed of presidents of the various civic clubs, has contributed most to the community during the past year.

The award will be made at the annual Chamber of Commerce meeting which will be held in February.

With each nomination, a brief must be submitted giving reasons for consideration being given to the person named.

The award will be determined by secret ballot.

E. W. Shepherd, Vernon High School band director, was given the award for 1950 at last year's meeting.

Both Sides Seem Willing to Yield On Crucial Issue

Question of Building and Repairing Air Fields Is Big Snag.

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Jan. 13 (AP)—Allied and Communist negotiators appeared willing Saturday to yield slightly on the critical issue of rebuilding North Korean airfields—a major block in the truce talks.

The question of building and repairing airfields in Red Korea is the last remaining issue before the subcommittee considering of an armistice.

Freedom of choice in repatriation is a major issue in the other subcommittee considering exchange of prisoners of war.

In this United Nations command advance camp, the feeling grew that both sides might give a little on their deadlocked positions regarding airfields.

The Reds already have shown some signs of modifying their stand. On Dec. 2, their chief delegate, North Korean General Nam Il, said emphatically the North Koreans would rebuild military airfields during the armistice.

Since then, the Communist chief sub-delegate, Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang, has toned that down by saying maybe the Communists would rebuild their airfields and maybe not. It is their business, he said.

The Allied sub-delegate, Air Force Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, indicated Saturday a clear statement from the Reds on the issue might make way for successfully terminating the truce talks.

The Allies insist that military airfields on both sides be left as they are during an armistice.

In the other sub-delegation tent, where the fate of thousands of prisoners of war is hanging fire, the Allies pressed for an exchange on a man-for-man basis until all Red-held U. N. prisoners are handed over. The Allies hold many thousands more prisoners than do the Communists.

After such an exchange the Allies propose voluntary choice of repatriation for the remaining prisoners—a return to North Korea, Red China or whatever country will take them.

The Red Chinese were strongly opposed. They called it "slave barter."

Morris Funeral Slated Sunday

Mrs. Morris died in a Dallas hospital following a short illness. She was a resident of the White City community and a member of the First Methodist Church.

Brewster Thinks Mac Is for Taft

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R.-Me.) said today he believes Gen. MacArthur is "very much in sympathy" with the candidacy of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination.

Brewster, a Taft supporter, also said he thinks it is "altogether likely" that MacArthur may come out publicly in support of Taft before the Republican nominating convention in July.

At the same time, Brewster said, he still considers Gen. Eisenhower an indispensable man in Europe as commander of the North Atlantic Defense forces. Eisenhower is in the GOP race by virtue of his statement he would accept the nomination but won't seek it.

The two other avowed candidates for the GOP nomination, as well as spokesmen for Taft and Eisenhower, will have an opportunity to thump tubs for their causes next week at a meeting of the Republican National Committee in San Francisco.

Dies May Enter Senatorial Race

Houston, Jan. 12 (AP)—Former Congressman Martin Dies said today that if he can raise $100,000 for campaign expenses he will run for the U. S. Senate against Tom Connally.

Dies, first chairman of the House un-American Activities committee, said if he does not raise enough money to make a "decent race" for the Senate, he will run for Congressman-at-Large.

Attorney General Price Daniel is another possibility as an opponent for Texas' senior Senator. Daniel has promised to reveal his political plans in a statewide broadcast Jan. 21.

"I'd rather run for the Senate, however," he said.

"I would like to run for the Senate on the clear-cut issue of whether the people want to continue an administration of socialism and waste or whether they want a return to sound government.

"I think the people are entitled to such a decision. But in order to make a respectable race and get my views before the people, it will take at least $100,000—and I have said that I won't take money from anybody who wants something in return."

Connally has announced for his sixth consecutive six year term as Senator.

Steelworkers Say Industry Could Afford Big Pay Hike

Washington, Jan. 12. (AP)—Steelworkers said today industry could pay them a 50 cent hourly wage increase out of "excess" profits. Industry said this would boost prices and make things tough for everyone, including the Government.

The steelworkers' argument ended their initial testimony in the crucial steel dispute in which they are asking 18½ cent hourly wage hikes and other benefits.

Hearings before a six-man panel studying the big labor-management controversy for the Wage Stabilization Board then recessed for three weeks to give the companies time to prepare their case. They will resume in New York.

Otis Brubaker, research director of the CIO United Steel Workers Union, told the panel U. S. Steel Corporation and other large companies could raise wages 50 cents an hour and pay the added cost out of excess profits.

He said output per man hour has soared sharply since 1919—about 167 per cent from 1919 to 1939, another 40.5 per cent since then.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today said if the "Government gives way to wage demands" of the steelworkers the result will be "serious inflationary pressures."

It said prices would soar and "the victims will be consumers, fixed income recipients, such as teachers, the aged, the blind and many other Americans who are in genuine need."

It added the Government "will have to pay higher prices for the weapons sorely needed for defense," leading to deficits which would cause even more inflation.

The statement was made in a letter from Chamber President D. A. Hulcy of Dallas to Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam, and Wage Stabilizer Nathan P. Feinsinger.

The CIO Steel Workers Union has postponed a threatened strike at least until Feb. 24 while the WSB tries to work out a solution of the dispute.

GI Bill of Rights Appears Headed for Some Changes

Washington, Jan. 12. (AP)—The GI Bill of Rights appears headed for some changes this year as Congress considers proposals to extend its benefits to veterans of the Korean conflict.

Chairman Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee said today hearings on such legislation will get underway Feb. 6.

So far the committee has under study 20 bills on the subject. Their principal theme: Give the Korean War veterans the same treatment accorded the men of World War II.

One of the measures—drafted by the American Legion—calls for marked changes, however, in the educational and training provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

And another along this same line will be introduced soon by Representative Teague, Democrat, Texas, on behalf of a special committee that has been investigating the Veterans' Administration's handling of GI education and training.

The Teague committee, which uncovered abuses of the training program, is still analyzing results of its inquiry.

Rankin said he is confident Congress will act on behalf of the Korean veterans. But he steered clear of predicting what changes might be made.

The Legion-basked bill, which will serve as a starting-point for hearings and committee discussion, would provide educational and training benefits to personnel who served in the armed forces after June 27, 1950.

Here are some of its provisions:

Training would be limited to a period equal to the time a man actually spent in the armed forces;

Any person who had not passed his 23rd birthday on June 27, 1950, or the date he entered the service would be considered to have had his education interrupted;

If his education had not been interrupted by the military service, he would be entitled to only a maximum of 12 months training;

A trainee would have to begin his benefit training within two years of his discharge and complete it within 17 years;

Avocational and recreational courses—such as dancing, bartending, personality-development, fishing, golf, etc.—would be banned;

Tuition and fee payments for schooling would be limited to one-half the amount the schools regularly charge non-veterans, with a ceiling of $300.

Some of these provisions would meet some of the criticisms raised by the Teague committee.

Teague favors limiting educational benefits somewhat, giving supplemental help to veterans who are willing to foot part of their bills instead of giving a lot of aid to a limited number of men.

Too, he wants to change the procedure of paying for education and training. Instead of having the VA pay the schools directly, he believes the payments should go to the veterans who, in turn, would take care of their school costs. He believes this would reduce VA operating costs.

Teague also wants stricter penalties for abuses of the program, whether by the trainees or the schools.

Most of Teague's proposals are expected to be embodied in the bill that emerges from his committee.

Less than 120 miles southwest of Bordeaux are the famous resort towns of the Basque Coast, Biarritz and St. Jean de Luz.

Navy Plans Ten Super Carriers

Washington, Jan. 12. (AP)—Secretay Kimball said tonight the Navy plans to build a series of ten 60,000-ton supercarriers, one a year for a decade, and that it hopes some will be driven by atomic power.

He presented this project as part of a picture of how the nation's naval power has expanded since the start of the Korean war anr how it will grow in the future if the Russian menace continues.

Prototype of the new family of carriers—bigger by about 15,000 tons than any now afloat—will be the USS Forrestal, under contract for building at Newport News, Va. The Forrestal will be an entirely new type carrier, a true "flattop." The usual islandsuperstructure will be retractable to allow use of the full width of the flight deck. This will mean that big atomic bomb carryingplanes can take off and land.

In an address at the annual dinner of the National Sojourners, an organization of officers and former officers of the armed forces, Kimball said the Forrestal will "embody the latest advances in naval aviation."

An atomic powered carrier would have virtually unlimited range and probably higher speed than any vessel of comparable size. The Navy is starting out on nuclear power ship propulsion with an experimental submarine. A contract for the hull has been let and engines are being developed.

Kimball also said that as part of the program for coping with the Soviet submarine danger, which he rated as great, the Navy will launch within the next few months four new types "hunter-killer" destroyers.

These ships are big, fast and powerfully armed with special weapons for detecting and destroying submersibles.

Kimball said the first two hunter-killer destroyers, the Mitscher and the Willis A. Lee, will be launched about Jan. 26. The other two, the John S. McCain and the Wilkinson, will go down the ways in the next few months.

French Argument Delays Defenses

Paris, Jan. 12. (AP)—Political squabbling over French domestic affairs threatens a new delay of the much-postponed project for getting Germans into uniform for western defense.

The French Communists take a lot of satisfaction in this.

They say they're protecting France against the German military giant who invaded her three times in 80 years. The possibility of a Russian invasion doesn't worry Communists at all.

The United European Army appears the only plan under which the French Parliament would approve arming Germans. Many Frenchmen have a real fear of an independent German Army. The European Defense Community, as the new plan is officially called, is designed to calm that fear by putting all German troops under a supranational authority. Most French, Italian, Belgian, Dutch and Luxembourg troops would also join the pool. The army so formed would be one of those under command of General Eisenhower's supreme headquarters.

The complete plan was to have been ready for approval by the Atlantic Council meetings in Rome last month. It wasn't. Then the target was set for the Lisbon session opening Feb. 2. That seems to have been postponed a week or more by French request.

A session of the six foreign ministers concerned has been scheduled for Jan. 26 and 27 in Paris. Assuming the last details are settled then, just about enough time would remain to finish drafting the plan and have it ready for the Atlantic Council.

MISSING INACTION

Ephrata, Wash., Jan. 12 (AP)—The wife of a man credited with one of five Communist MIG-15 jets shot down in Korea yesterday was notified by the War Department last night that he was missing in action. She is Mrs. Theil M. Reeves, the former Mary Rucker. Mrs. Reeves, who is 21, has a three-months-old daughter which her husband has never seen. The dispatch from Korea telling of Lieutenant Reeves' feat gave no details of the air fight or its outcome. He was a member of the 51st interceptor wing.

Would-Be Burglar Has Narrow Escape

Somewhere today a would-be burglar is probably giving thanks to whatever gods a burglar offers prayer, and in all probability has taken an oath to transfer to a less hazardous profession.

Under cover of darkness a silent figure fumbled with the locked door of a service station at Oklaunion. He tapped the glass lightly with the butt end of a screwdriver. The tinkle of glass broke the silence and a man's hand slipped through the opening to release the nightlatch. The door moved inward slowly, the lights blazed on, and a voice from within the station rasped, "hold it!" The would-be burglar stared into the business end of a double-barreled shotgun. The figure wheeled, slammed the door and did a quick fade. A nervous station operator who sleeps within the building, swallowed a couple of times and wondered why he didn't shoot. Officers have found no trace of the prowler.

Republican Party Turning Westward for Tub Thumping

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, Jan. 12. (AP)—The Republican Party turns westward next week to provide a national campaign forum where tubs will be thumped for the four men thus far in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Two avowed candidates, Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, are scheduled to address a meeting of the Republican National Committee being held in San Francisco Thursday and Friday.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, also an announced candidate, is sending his campaign manager, Davis S. Ingalls, to speak for him.

Gen. Eisenhower—in the race by virtue of his statement he would accept the Republican nomination but won't seek it—will be represented by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, national manager of the Ike-for-President GOP movement.

The San Francisco meeting of the committee, which Republican leaders from 11 Western states also will attend, provides an opportunity for the presidential candidates or their managers to plug for support at the party's nominating convention next July, and to speak out on the issues as they see them.

In Washington, meanwhile, Democrats will be looking again Tuesday for some indication whether President Truman plans to seek another term. Mr. Truman has a White House appointment then with Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who has said he will decide soon whether to bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

At his news conference this week, Mr. Truman again declined to say whether he would be a candidate for re-election, but he said he would disclose his plans before the Republican convention starting July 7.

It is known that the President's physician, Maj. Gen. Wallace Graham, is hoping he will decide against running again. Graham feels that despite Mr. Truman's good health, another four years in the White House would be a tremendous strain on a man now 67.

Senator Mundt (R-SD) said today that after a swing through the Southwest and Midwest he is convinced the President won't seek another term.

"He has lost the South, and he can't win without the South," Mundt declared. "I don't think he wants to end his career as a badly defeated candidate."

Mundt said that on the other hand he is convinced the public wants either Taft or Eisenhower as the next President. He added, however, that he believes the people have not made up their minds between the two.

In Columbus, Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced he will seek a fourth term as Ohio Governor. His terse statement ended speculation Lausche might run instead for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Republican John W. Bricker.

Truman May Drop Call For Taxes

Washington, Jan. 12. (AP)—President Truman has about decided not to ask this election-year Congress for new boosts in income or excise tax rates, informed officials said today.

Rather, they said, the President will hit hard for a twin program of (a) tighter tax law enforcement, and (b) the plugging of what he has termed loopholes costing the Government several billion dollars of revenue yearly.

Officials said Mr. Truman's political advisers cautioned against an all-out drive for an increase in tax rates. Barring a last-minute change of mind, they said, the President apparently has agreed.

The reasoning of Mr. Truman's political aides was said to be that the Administration shouldn't stick its neck out needlessly on behalf of another tax boost since chances of enactment are so dim.

Key Congress members of both parties have said that barring all-out war there will be no general tax hike this year.

This reported decision by Mr. Truman would mean abandonment of his repeatedly proclaimed goal of pay-as-we-go financing of the mounting defense effort.

Responsible officials said the President's budget message, due to go to Congress Jan. 21, will outline a whopping spending program of about 85 billion dollars for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

IN FAIR CONDITION

Pampa, Jan. 12 (AP)—Si Bowers, 41, was in fair condition today from a bullet wound received at his dance hall here yesterday. The hospital said a previous report that doctors had amputated a leg was erroneous. Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Joe Rush, 59, shot Bowers outside the dance hall then walked inside and committed suicide by shooting himself in his stomach.

For a Wichitan to hand us a message like that is something almost out of this world. I don't think I'll ever crack about Wichitans again. This man not only wrote a great letter—but with his check for $100 showed that he believes what he writes. I wonder if the people of Vernon and Wilbarger County can't believe in the same doctrine at least to a small extent. I'd suggest that we give more than a dollar, at least most of us, because what the Wichitan does not know is that Tommy probably will never have the opportunity to become a useful citizen. It is probably a lifetime of helplessness for him. He can't look forward to his twentieth birthday with the hope of relief....nor the thirtieth.... nor the seventieth. When you stop to think of his future you can get a better picture of how fortunate you and I are. I'd like to suggest that we send our dimes and our dollars to the Tommy Yates fund, care of Judge A. D. Green, Vernon, Texas. I'd like to send them in volume enough to earn the respect of this Wichita Falls man. I think his respect is worth earning.

Gibson's Contract at Childress Not Renewed

Childress, Jan. 12. (AP)—The Childress School District Board has voted not to renew School Superintendent Joe A. Gibson's contract, the board announced today.

The board voted four to two against extending Gibson's contract after offering him the chance to resign. Gibson refused. His contract expires Aug. 1.

The trustees said they were not rehiring Gibson because of "a lot of little things."

They said many school patrons were opposed to Gibson because he has "been here too long" and because he has "too much direct control over the high school."

Gibson has been superintendent since 1941. Prior to 1941 he was head football coach.

T. E. DAVIS AGENCY TO CONTINUE UNCHANGED

In the death of T. E. Davis, hundreds of people throughout this area lost a staunch friend, and we here in the T. E. Davis Insurance Agency lost a valued friend as well as a partner and co-worker whose guiding influence we have enjoyed so many years.

Knowing as we do that his friends and the service given them were close to his heart, we feel that it is appropriate to assure everyone that there will be no change in the business policies which he established and maintained. His partners and the other members of the staff had the privilege of working under his tutelage for years, and carrying on in his name during the long months of his illness, and they join with Mrs. T. E. Davis in pledging a continuation of the same business principles.

No change in the business ownership is contemplated, with Mrs. T. E. Davis retaining the same interest in the partnership held by her late husband.

The members of the office staff of the T. E. Davis Agency, employes as well as partners, are deeply grieved at the passing of one who meant so much to us, and we want to thank most sincerely everyone for the many kindnesses shown him and us in connection with his passing. We appreciate it from the depths of our hearts and it inspires us all the more to continue the policies which won him such friendship and appreciation.

Inspection Stations Still Busy

(By The Associated Press)

Maybe most of the furor had died down, but most of the garages over Texas reported they still were busy today inspecting cars for safety.

Many reported business as brisk as it was last week when the deadline for inspection still was April 1.

Late yesterday afternoon the State Attorney General ruled that motor vehicle owners could wait until midnight Sept. 6 to get the inspection. He said they could go ahead and get their 1952 license tags without the safety certificate.

A quick check by The Associated Press today showed:

Dallas—Garages still busy, but business has dropped off.

Abilene—Of five inspection stations checked, three reported business brisk as it has been, but two said inspection requests were off. One firm had 20 cars waiting and was booked until next Wednesday.

Houston—Little change. However, biggest stations were closing at noon since the emergency is over. One of the largest said it had the usual line, tried to talk motorists out of waiting, but couldn't.

Beaumont—Car inspections off 50 per cent from yesterday.

Fort Worth—Panicky lines gone but test stations still busy to capacity.

Corsicana—at 9 a. m. no letup in number seeking inspection but expected to dwindle during day.

Juvenile Officer Issues Report

Five juveniles were admitted to homes (religious or private) and seven adopted during 1951, County Juvenile Officer Ben Woodington reported Saturday.

The county juvenile office handled 114 delinquent complaints during 1951. Of this number, 37 were brought before the County Juvenile Court. Thirty-three were released to their parents and four were sent to the state reformatory. This included three boys and one girl.

There were 486 cases and calls for 1951, including 131 calls on homes, 107 investigations, 38 calls on high school students, 46 calls on grade school students and 38 calls on colored students.

During the year there were 24 children placed in the Sunshine Home. Their stay amounted to 189 days with a total cost of $293.75.

There was a small decrease in delinquency over the county in 1951 as compared to the previous year. There were 120 cases in 1950 compared to 114 for 1951. Delinquency has shown a small decline during the past five years even though the population of the county has increased, Mr. Woodington stated. The total number of underprivileged children also showd a slight decrease.

A breezeway and storage room were also added to Sunshine Home with an approximate cost of $1,100.

Mother King Bans Daughter From Home Because of Samai

Dallas, Jan. 12 (AP)—Sheppard (Abdullah) King said today that his mother had banned his little sister from their Houston home because Sister Patricia had been "friendly" with Abdullah and his Egyptian wife, Samia.

King said that Patricia received a wire from mother last night which told her to "never come in this house again and I mean it."

The wire, King said, was signed simply, "Mother."

He said he didn't think his mother, Mrs. Sheppard W. King II, would disinherit Patricia. "She just likes to keep trouble going," the 27-year-old playboy said about his mother.

The family row began when King embraced the Moslem faith to marry his dancer wife, Samia Gamal.

Patricia, King said, had returned to Houston last night. He said she might be reached at his mother's house. He cautioned reporters about his mother, who he said "could get a little rugged" if they called about Patricia.

"Don't feel embarrassed if you get cussed out when you call her," he told newsmen.

An earlier call in Houston to Mrs. King's produced this heated comment:

"I have no comment and don't call me back!"

King said his mother was displeased because Patricia came to Dallas to party with the newlyweds. He said "she's just mad" because "Patricia and I and my wife are so friendly."

Abdullah said he and his copper-tressed wife would leave Dallas in the morning for Miami where Samia has a night club appearance scheduled. He said they would stop off at New Orleans for "a bite to eat" on the way.

No parties or celebrations had been planned, he added. They'll make the trip in his Cadillac—the same one used to speed across Texas for a Mexican divorce before he went to Egypt to marry Samia.

Yesterday Abdullah put his husbandly foot down and refused to let his wife with shining brown eyes and quivering muscles dance in a Dallas night club.

He was reported to have been offered $5,000 for an engagement in the Sky Club here.

He refused, he said, because Samia couldn't dance on their honeymoon—even for $5,000.

242 New Oil Wells Completed in Week

Austin, Jan. 12. (AP)—Texas oil well completions stepped out well ahead of last year's rate with 242 producers brought in this week, the Texas Railroad Commission reported today.

The year's total jumped to 443 compared with 412 a year ago.

Ten gas wells were completed. The 1952 total trailed 1951's comparative figure, 31 to 43.

The Commission reported 128 dry holes.

Wildcatters found 22 oil wells, two gassers, and 83 dry holes.

Pluggings included 225 dry wells, one gas well, and 45 oil wells.

The total average calendar day crude oil allowable today was 2,941,736 barrels, up 11,399 barrels from a week ago.

The state had 132,692 wells, 153 more than last week.

BUILDING SLUMPS

Austin, Jan. 12. (AP)—Texas building slumped during the second week of 1952. Contract awards totaled $8,689,225 compared with $9,968,899 the week before. The figures were compiled by the Texas Contractor, authoritative engineering journal. The accumulated total of awards thus far this year is $18,658,124. Residential building led the awards last week with a total of $6,571,405.

$67 IN FINES—

Fines in Justice of the Peace Court Saturday totalled $67.

C. W. Shepherd fined an Amarillo man $19 for speeding and a Pottsboro, Texas, man $19 on each of two counts—operating a vehicle without proper licenses and hauling over registered weight. G. L. Robinson fined a Quanah youth $10 for speeding.

Method of Punishment Investigated

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 12. (AP)—An investigation was launched here today into charges of floggings, barefoot marches across the desert and other forms of unusual punishment at the Arizona Industrial School for Boys.

Superior Judge Charles Bernstein of Phoenix said he and two other judges had been asked to look into the accusations made by 12 present or former inmates of the correctional institution.

Bernstein said statements taken from the youths held that:

An attendant had kicked a boy in the face for not moving fast enough.

Boys were whipped with pieces of fanbelts, doubled ropes and bicycle tires, and were forced to walk barefooted across the desert from Willcox, Ariz., some 25 to 30 miles back to the school for varying offenses.

The school is located at Fort Grant, Ariz., an early-day Army post.

George R. Ridgway, school superintendent, promptly admitted part of the charges.

British Troops Lack Equipment

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 12. (AP)—A British Commonwealth Division spokesman estimated tonight that about 800 British troops lack parkas or new Winter boots.

He declared, however, that they "are not suffering any great hardship; certainly not at the moment."

Shortage of Winter equipment for the division came to light yesterday when a British staff officer reported 2,000 sets of Winter clothing would be purchased from the Canadian Brigade, which is amply equipped.

The spokesman tonight said the purchase involved 2,000 parkas and nothing else.

The Commonwealth Division is making a final inventory of the sizes it needs. The spokesman said an order for the parkas would be en route by Sunday night to Kure, Japan, where the Canadians have their Winter stores.

As for boots, the spokesman said some of the 800 men who lack new equipment are using Finnish boots and other older gear.

The spokesman said in an interview tonight:

"There has been some grousing among the men about the lack of equipment, but there have been only two cases of frostbite—neither due to lack of Winter equipment. They were engineers who took off their gloves to work on machinery."

A supply of new boots and other gear from England is due in Korea Jan. 17 aboard the Empire Orwell.

The spokesman again blamed small sizes for the shortage. A source close to the Canadian Army said that if the boots aboard the Empire Orwell were not big enough, the Canadians could spare some.

The division spokesman said all the troops had plenty of blankets. In some cases, he remarked, troops have tailored blankets into clothing.

Off the Record

By Bill Werley
Sports Editor

The School Board is slated to meet Monday to study selection of a new football coach for Vernon High School.

As we understand it unofficially there are over 20 applications in for the position.

This should give the School Board adequate opportunity to select the one most suited to the needs here.

Fred Atkins out at Hill Crest informs ue that there is a lot of good golf being exhibited there now. Besides the hole-jn-one turned in by J. D. Williams last week, Fred also listed an eagle on the par four first hole by Gordon Bell as one of the better shots of the week.

Gordon drove the green and then holed out for a two. The first hole is about 320 yards.

The District 1-AAA basketball race will get under way Friday with Sweetwater meeting the Lions here, Plainview going to Lamesa and Big Spring to Midland.

The Mustangs will be a supreme test for the improving Lions of Coach Bob Percival. The Sweetwater quintet has one of the better records in the district and were barely nosed by strong Pampa recently.

Of course the over-sized cracker box that we laughingly refer to as a gymnasium will probably throw the Mustangs into a state of utter confusion.

Plainview, Sweetwater and Lamesa are expected to be the "toughies" in the district race. The Lions hold down a "dark-horse" spot.

Big Spring, Plainview and Lamesa all have new gymnasiums this year. Midland also has a fine gym. The Sweetwater gym is of unknown quantity, but is most certainly adequate.

It will be embarrassing for us to have to reveal to visiting teams the gym that we play in.

Maybe we could sneak them in at the Washington gym.

Bobcats Win On Goal in Last Seconds

The road-court jinx continued to hover over the Vernon Lions Saturday night as they dropped a 38-37 overtime thriller to the Childress Bobcats there.

The score was tied 32-32 at the end of the regular period and an overtime stanza was needed to settle the score. Vernon defeated Childress at Vernon.

Lester Dye of Vernon and Perry Morren of Childress tied for high point honors with 10 points each. Jerry Thomas hit nine and Ramon Towry eight for the Lions.

Childress led 10-5 at the end of the first period and made it 15-10 at the half. The Lions continued to trail by five points, 27-22, at the third period mark.

A Lion rally pulled them up to within two points of the Bobcats and with just seconds left, Towry hit for a two-pointer to send the game into overtime.

Jack McFarland hit for the first two in the overtime for Childress and then Dye notched two to make it 34-34. Morren shot good for two and Childress led. Thomas then made a basket and a charity shot to put the Lions in front 37-36.

With time running out, LaNoel Castleberry made a one-hander from 20 feet out to win the game.

The Childress B Squad shaded the Vernon Bees 26-25 in the opener. Chris Krebs got nine for Vernon.

Waterfield Paces Team to Victory In Rain and Mud

Los Angeles, Jan. 12. (AP)—Traveling 89 yards in a touchdown drive on the aerial brilliance of Quarterback Bob Waterfield and Right End Elroy Hirsch, the National Conference all stars came from behind in the fourth quarter today to defeat the American Conference stars, 30-13.

The second Pro-Bowl game was played in rain and mud.

The Nationals, gaining revenge for a 28-27 setback in the first Pro-Bowl game a year ago, turned two gambles into two more touchdowns in the final period to humiliate their rivals.

But it was that long haul, begun in a downpour late in the third period that sent Coach Joe Stydahar's Nationals from behind a 13-10 deficit and on to victory.

Waterfield hit Hirsch, his all-pro teammate of the Los Angeles Rams for gains of 17 and 9, and then unleashed a 21-yard throw to the enemy two-yard line. Here, Fullback John Dottley of the Chicago Bears barged through the middle of the big American line for the winning points.

Veteran Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins, sent into the muddy struggle in the closing minutes to replace Otto Graham of Cleveland, was the victim of two bobbles with the soaked ball. Twice he fumbled and twice the winners tallied.

Giant Leo Nomellini of the San Francisco 49ers fielded the first one when Baugh tried to hand off to his fullback, Ed Price, and rumbled 20 yards to sew up the contest.

Don Paul recovered the other bobble on the six, and three plays later, Doak Walker of Detroit lofted a throw to the leaping Hirsch in the end zone for the final touchdown, just as the gun sounded.

Until the game broke open in the final quarter, the 19,400 souls who braved the elements saw one of the tightest contests of a long grid season. Many sections of the nation witnessed the classic via television.

Fight Group Eyes Manager Fracas

New York, Jan. 12. (AP)—New York's Athletic Commission adjourned its hearing into last night's fracas at Madison Square Garden today after hearing testimony that Manager Tommy Ryan had struck both Referee Ray Miller and Matchmaker Al Weill.

"This was only a preliminary hearing," said Chairman Robert Christenberry, "and we will have a full hearing on Friday, Jan. 18."

Prior to that Anthony Durso, deputy Boxing Commissioner, said Ryan had struck Miller, after Miller had halted the bout.

Ryan's fighter, Rocky Castellani, was ahead on points but in the seventh round was dropped by a blow to the chin by Ernie Durando. Castellani was up at nine but when he sagged against the ropes, Miller halted the scrap.

Twenty-five football lettermen and three basketball lettermen for 1951 were announced by Coach Buster Dixon at the annual all-student banquet Friday night honoring the Lions and coaches.

Football lettermen included Lyndal Ashley, Jackie Bird, Duane Blair, Jack Bolton, Dan Borchardt, Don Bowen, Heber Brantley, Joe Wayne Brock, Jimmy Calhoun, Dale Dillingham, Gordon Harvey, Bill Herchman, Don Hickey, Kenneth Hines.

Also Kenneth Hodges, Thomas James, Chris Krebs, James Luttrell, Jimmy Layne, Robert Namken, Tommy Neely, Howard Thomas, Jerry Thomas, Ramon Towry, Roland Weaver, and Managers Roy Dean Wright and D. H. Palmer.

Lester Dye, John Milner and Philip Dillon all voted to accept basketball letters.

Of the lettermen, Blair, Brantley, Brock, Herchman, Hodges, James, Layne, Luttrell, H. Thomas, J. Thomas and Weaver are all finishing their eligibility. Seventeen lettermen will be back for the 1952 season.

Mrs. J. A. Huber was emcee for the program. The invocation was given by Jerry Thomas, the welcome by Judy Parker and the response by Joe Wayne Brock.

Norma McPherson sang several selections, the "Dead Beat Seven," a musical aggregation, performed, and a boys' quartet sang several barbership harmonies on the program.

NCAA RebuffS, Accepts Part of De-Emphasis Plan

Cincinnati, Jan. 12. (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association rebuffed the college presidents in one respect today, but in many others brought its own program closer in line with the proposals of the 11-man National Council on Education Committee.

The NCAA delegates firmly rejected legislation which would have outlawed Spring football practice and out-of-season basketball drills. Instead they restricted such practices to 20 sessions in each sport.

They altered their principle governing financial aid to athletes, putting such aid more securely under the control of the individual institutions and they adopted a principle calling for sound academic standards.

The influential NCE presidents' committee, which reported on its study of athletics this week, declared that there should be no outf-of-season practice sessions. It also ruled out football "bowl" games and other post-season team contests and called for closer restriction on other athletic practices.

The NCAA merely called for further study of post-season games by a special committee and meanwhile placed a ban on making new commitments for such games to be played after Jan. 2, 1953.

The convention also established a new ethics committee, which will have broad powers to investigate any incident which the NCAA Council deems "detrimental to the welfare of intercollegiate athletics as a whole."

It also turned down an effort to eliminate the "platoon system" from football by means of restrictive rules.

The anti-platton move, which was something of a surprise to many delegates, came on a resolution from the Pacific Coast Conference calling for a "mandate" to the football rules committee to make the change. After lively debate, it was rejected by a lopsided count.

Richards 'Wary' Over Loop Losses

Chicago, Jan. 12 (AP) — Paul Richards, manager of the Chicago White Sox, isn't waving his cap over the American League exits of Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees.

Richards, here from his Waxahachie home, to attend the Chicago Baseball Writers Diamond Dinner tomorrow night, said today:

"You can't tell whether the departure of Williams (into the marines) or DiMaggio (into retirement) will be beneficial to the opposition.

"Baseball is a young man's game and maybe some young players will step in and do a job that will keep New York and Boston right up there." Williams is 33, DiMaggio 37.

Four Major Bowl Contests To Be Filmed Here Sunday

Four major bowl games will be brought to local football fans through the medium of the motion picture screen Sunday and Monday at the Vernon Theatre.

The Rose, Cotton, Sugar and Orange bowls will all be shown with some action from each. Illinois won the Rose Bowl, Kentucky the Cotton Bowl, Maryland the Sugar Bowl and Georgia Tech the Orange Bowl.

Wakefield to Try Big League Again

St. Augustine, Fla., Jan. 12. (AP)—Dick Wakefield plans one more fling at major league baseball before he gives up hope.

Hank Greenberg, Cleveland Indians' general manager, has promised Wakefield he'll get that chance.

"He was the only person in baseball who offered me that opportunity," Wakefield said. "I certainly appreciate it."

Wakefield never became the big major league star the Detroit Tigers expected when they paid him a $50,000 plus bonus in 1941. He has consistently refused to play minor league ball—except for the 1950 season with Oakland in the Pacific Coast League.

He still says it has to be the majors or nothing.

In preparation for the tryout at the Indians' camp in Tucson, Ariz., Wakefield is getting in shape and at the same time serving as an instructor in New York Yankee Pitcher Ed Lopat's Baseball School here.

Pro Football Twin Bill Proposed by Club Owner

Chicago, Jan. 12. (AP)—An eventual 12-team round robin schedule and a four-team championship "doubleheader" will be proposed by Owner-Coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears at the annual meeting of the National League football meeting in New York next week.

Halas envisioned a televised five-hour championship twin bill at such an arena as the Los Angeles Coliseum, the Sugar Bowl, or Cotton Bowl. The two winners would meet for the title the following week either in the same city, or another sun-warmed clime.

Two Kinds Draft To Be Discussed At Grid Meeting

Philadelphia, Jan. 12. (AP)—Two kinds of drafts will top the topics under discussion at the annual meeting of the National Football League, due to get under way in New York Thursday.

The first is the yearly selection of likely college players by the pro league clubs. The second is the draft which brings "greetings" from the armed services.

The 12 clubs in the league will take turns putting the finger on college players whose class has been graduated or will be graduated prior to next Sept. 1, or who will have received a diploma by that date.

NFL owners and coaches are deeply concerned over the draft status of the men they hope to acquire from the play-for-fun ranks.

The Philadelphia Eagles, as an example, point out that 75 per cent of the men they are most interested in are headed into uniform in the near future.

First order of business Thursday will be the bonus picks with seven clubs participating.

Other pressing league matters include a report that Dallas, Texas, will have an NFL team on the field next Fall. Gordon McLendon, president of the Liberty Broadcasting System, has indicated he may be in the market for a franchise. And Ted Collins, owner of the New York Yanks, is believed in some quarters to be ready to pull out.

Southern California Prexy Named to Head NCAA

Cincinnati, Jan. 12. (AP)—Dr. Hugh C. Willett of Southern California was re-elected president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today and he accepted his post with this militant statement:

"The last two years have been stormy seas, but we are stronger than ever before. We are not done for. We will see this thing through. This captain will not abandon ship."

Lockett, defending champion, will be favored to defeat the Warriors and maintain its lead. Harrold, 34-27 loser to Lockett last week, could give the Panthers undisputed possession of first place by dumping Odell.

Jerrel Russum of Lockett and Jackie Wilson of Harrold pace the scorers with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

In girls' play, Lockett and Northside both revealed power in disposing of opening round opponents. The girls will play the same schedule as the boys.

Arizona Player Uses False Name

Tempe, Ariz., Jan. 12. (AP)—The Phoenix Gazette said today an All-Border Conference tackle at Arizona State College at Tempe had been playing all year under an assumed name.

The paper identified the player as "Edward Andrew" Matesic, registered at the school as a freshman. His real name is Joseph Matesic, who played on the University of Indiana squad in the 1950 season, the Gazette said.

Dr. Grady Gammage, ASC president, confirmed that one of the school's football players had been found to be registered under the name of "another person," and had left the institution.

Dr. Gammage, who presented the information in a written statement, did not identify the player.

Matesic, a sensation as a freshman here this season, left several days ago for his home in Rankin, Pa. Acquaintances said he planned to enter military service.

Atlantic, N. J., Jan. 12. (AP)—Atlantic City put in a bid today to play host to a rematch of Jersey Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles for the heavyweight championship.

The rematch of Champion Jersey Joe with the man he took the title from has been much talked of in boxing circles, but nothing definite has been announced.

Crosby Golf Tournament To Be Completed Sunday

Pebble Beach, Calif., Jan. 12. (AP)—Bing Crosby's $10,000 National Pro-Amateur golf tournament came to a waterlogged halt today but it will get under way again tomorrow, weather permitting, in an abbreviated finale.

The forecast was for diminishing showers. An all-night rain caused cancellation of the second round. The Monterey Peninsula Country Club course was ruled unplayable.

French Indo-China May Be Next Target for Communists

Washington, Jan. 12. (AP)—French Indo-China is a lush and bloody peninsula which may determine Asia's future.

It is the gateway to rich southeast Asia—for years one of Communism's main targets in the Orient.

The fierce campaign in Korea began originally as a Red sideshow. Korea still is of secondary military and economic importance in the Communist timetable of conquest.

The Communists have made it plain that Southeast Asia is what they really want—Indo-China, Burma, Thailand, Malaya and Indonesia.

Control of this Asiatic treasure house would enable them to cripple the Western Powers economically, point a sharp spearhead toward India and the Middle East and supply themselves with quantities of needed oil and rubber.

Indo-China is the key.

If it fell, most military officials agree, a highway would be opened to the rest of Southeast Asia.

"There would be nothing to stop the Communists until they reached Singapore—and not much there," an American officer in Bangkok told me.

Burma has been swept by conflict since given her independence in 1948. Thailand is too weak now to halt a determined army and perhaps too opportunistic to think of doing so. British forces are bogged down in Malaya with a jungle insurrection they cannot smash.

The young republic of Indonesia is proud but unprepared.

Ten years ago the Japanese jumped from Indo-China and conquered all of Southeast Asia and part of India in weeks.

These countries together are capable of producing 49.2 percent of the world's tin, 40 per cent of its rubber and three per cent of its petroleum. They have excess rice, needed in Red China's restless cities.

With these riches, the Communists could fatten themselves and at the same time deprive Western Europe of the raw materials needed for both defense and economic solvency.

By controlling Southeast Asia, they could outflank the American defense line—a necklace of islands from Japan to the Philippines. American military officials say this might require an American withdrawal deeper into the Pacific, perhaps to Hawaii.

These islands bases support the aircraft which alone are capable of reaching Soviet industries and airfields in the great military reservoir of Siberia.

And the loss of Southeast Asia would tighten the noose around Japan's industrial empire—another prime Communist target. Deprived of markets and raw materials, Japan might be starved into the Red camp unless given perhaps a dangerously high dole by the United States.

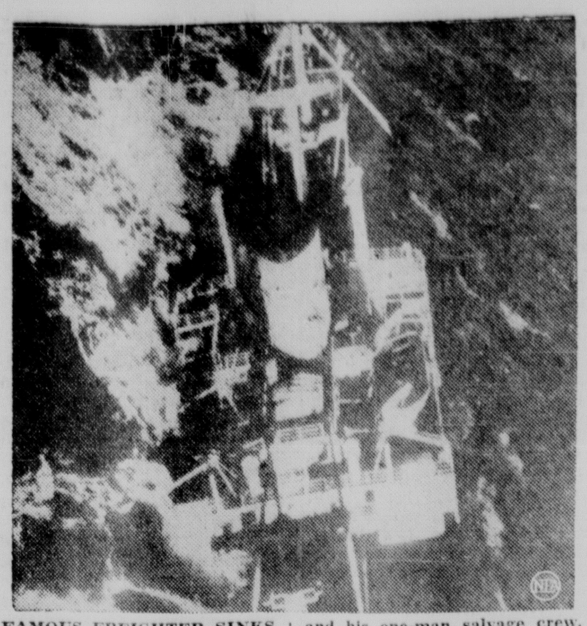

The value of Indo-China is mainly measured against this outline of grand strategy. The French contend, and many American officers agree with them, that Southeast Asia has been saved thus far only by the long and costly fight in the French colony.

The conflict with Moscow-trained Ho Chi-Minh and his troops has been almost conuous since the end of the Pacific war.

Childress, Dec. 12.—H. T. Cardwell of Vernon, Farm Bureau service officer for Wilbarger County, spoke to members of the Childress County Farm Bureau in a county-wide reorganizational meeting held here last night. Mr. Cardwell explained the bureau service program to the group.

Also at the meeting, Bob Kiker was named president of the county organization, succeeding retiring president Les Brummett.

HUSBAND TROUBLE — Mrs. Agnes Dixon Sasser, 22, left, solved her two-husband dilemma by filing for the annulment of her second marriage in Atlanta, Ga. Her first husband, Sgt. Walter Dixon, was reported killed in a Korean battle, so she married Pfc. Bill Sasser, only to find out later that her husband is in a Communist POW camp in Korea. Right, gorgeous Lisa Wilson, 28-year-old platinum blonde, shows profound shock after finding out that her husband, Clifford Smith, Jr., heir to a Boston investment fortune, wasn't legally free to marry her. She says this caused her $25,000 worth of shock and she is asking for another $10,000 to teach him a lesson as she applies for an annulment in Los Angeles.

Governor Long Opposes Nephew

Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 12. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long matches vote-getting power with his nephew, U. S. Senator Russell Long (D-La), in Tuesday's Democratic primary, although neither is personally a candidate for office.

Each is giving all-out support to rival candidates for Governor of Louisiana; and seven other candidates—each with his own backing—challenge the politically divided heirs of the late Huey P. Long.

Gov. Long, constitutionally barred from succeeding himself, is fighting for his hand-picked choice, Carlos Spaht of Baton Rouge who resigned as a district state judge to make the race. Until his candidacy, Spaht was not a state political figure.

Young Long is pleading for an end to old political feuds, and broke with his uncle whom he said has "mansion-itis." Besides Senator Long, Boggs has the support of New Orleans Mayor de-Lesseps Morrison and some other groups which at times have been critical of both Gov. Long and the Senator.

The seven candidates contesting against Spaht and Boggs include Louisiana's first woman candidate, Miss Lucille May Grace who is a veteran of 20-years in public office.

Kermit Parker, New Orleans pharmacist, is the first Negro candidate for Governor since reconstruction days. Among the state's record 981,000 registered voters are approximately 86,000 Negroes. Negroes have been voting in Louisiana Democratic primaries, tantamount to election in one party Louisiana, for several years.

James McLemore, Alexandria, La., cattleman and businessman who promises a business regime for the state, has attracted strong backing from many quarters opposing both Gov. Long and Senator Long in this race.

Appeals Judge Robert Kennon of Minden, in North Louisiana, has developed stout support from various groups. Kennon has run unsuccessfully against Gov. Long and against Senator Long in previous campaigns.

Lt. Gov. William Dodd, at odds now with Gov. Long, has waged a vigorous campaign citing his experience as a public official.

State Senator Dudley LeBlanc, French Cajon country political leader who sold out his multi-million dollar patent medicine company (Hadacol), has bid for votes with pledges to increase old age pensions.

Cliff Liles of Lake Charles, La., a House of Representatives sergeant at arms, has campaigned on a program of legalizing gambling to end tax worries.

If none of the nine candidates receives a majority in Tuesday's voting, a runoff between the two top candidates will follow in a second primary, Feb. 19.

Although Louisiana is strongly one party, intrest is sharpening in Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's nod toward a Republican presidential nomination for President.

A high Democratic political source, who asked not to be quoted by name, says the general would pull a heavy vote in Louisiana.

More Classrooms Needed in Texas

Austin, Jan. 12. (AP)—Texas public schools will need 10,461 more classrooms in September of this year than were in use in March, 1951.

Crowded conditions and other inadequacies of the schools were revealed in a report made by the Texas Education Agency of the U. S. Office of Education.

Joe R. Humphrey, specialist in school plant planning, directed the survey, which began in February of last year. Some of the shortages have been eased since March 1, 1951, the date to which the survey figures apply.

"Although the report indicates considerable room for improvement, we are generally well pleased with what we found out about Texas school facilities," Humphrey said.

He attributed the present shortage of buildings and classroom space to a sharp rise in enrollments caused by higher birth rates, the "inmigration" of industrial and military people, and the near stand-still of building and improving school plants during and since World War II.

Humphrey said $24 million, 532 thousand would have to be spent between March of last year and next September for building, rehabilitating and remodeling to avoid more and more half-day sessions and other makeshift arrangements that are being used in some school districts.

It would take $540 million, 294 thousand to bring Texas school buildings, facilities, sites and bus fleets up to ideal conditions, he added.

Worthington, Minn., (AP)—An Army recruiter, attending a wedding here, kissed the bride and recruited the groom.

Sgt. Sidney G. Hibma, chief clerk at the Sioux Falls, S. D., Air Force and Army recruiting station, was a guest when Mary Kay Miller and John Magee were wed.

During the reception, Hibma told the 24-year-old groom about the advantages of the Air Force. As soon as Magee returned from his wedding trip, he signed on the dotted line.

Magee is stationed at Lackland Ar Force Base, San Antono, Texas. His bride is working here.

The private life of The Man Who Takes It All For Granted!

Here's John Moltz, on his way to work. And you can bet that not once today will he consider what woke him up

turned morning's dark into cheerful light furnished him with a hot bath shaved his face
washed and ironed his shirt
cooked his coffee and toast

...what, in fact, did practically everything to send him happily to work. Yes, the answer is electric service—a good and faithful servant we all take pretty much for granted.

A servant whose wages are only a few cents a day! When you think about it, your electric service is just about the biggest bargain in the family budget.

Home Demonstration Clubs Aid Rural Family Living

The home demonstration clubs of Wilbarger County are active units in an organization which was started in this state in 1903. The first home demonstration agent in Texas was appointed in 1912, and Wilbarger County's first agent was appointed in 1917.

The County Home Demonstration Council is made up of members from the seven home demonstration clubs throughout the county and acts as an advisory group, working with the agent for the benefit of the clubs and the advancement of rural family living.

Among the activities of the home demonstration clubs is assisting with the nine 4-H clubs in the county. They assist with demonstrations, encampments and act as adult leaders for the groups. Among the work scheduled for 4-H girls this year are cereal grain demonstrations, bedroom and home improvement, gardening and clothing work.

There have been eight home demonstration agents in Wilbarger County since 1917. Miss Joy Riley, the present agent, has been here for three years, and works with the Council and the individual clubs in planning and giving demonstrations.

The extension service, which works with the home demonstration clubs, is also available to urban women. Diet aids, home plans, calorie charts, interior decoration, gardening, landscaping, raising poultry, clothing helps, recipes and information on freezing, preparing and canning foods are some of the services that are given free to these women.

County Attorney Speaks At Social Arts Meeting

"Juvenile Problems as Related to Our Juvenile Courts" was the topic of an instructive and illuminating talk given by Wilbarger County Attorney Tom Davis for members of the Social Arts Club at their Thursday afternoon meeting.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. B. T. Juvenal with Mrs. J. N. Wright as co-hostess.

During the business session a report on the club's Annual Style Show was given by Mrs. Claude Bennett, general chairman for the event. Mrs. Bennett announced that the show would be held on Friday, March 21, and named the following committees: Publicity—Mrs. W. D. Dixon; Runway—Mesdames J. C. Randel, chairman, B. T. Juvenal and Lee Glazener; Stage—Mesdames Norman Loader, chairman, Joe A. Collins, J. J. Muirhead, Tram Comer and C. C. White; Tickets — Mesdames Ed Noakes and Ben Boston, co-chairmen, E. W. Featherston, Jess Hancock, L. G. Lehman and J. N. Wright; Commentator Material—Mesdames L. G. Beard, chairman, and Killen Moore; Hostess—Mesdames Clarence Rainwater, chairman, Lloyd Jackson, A. A. Hingst and F. N. Pogue; Program—Mesdames D. O. Fulton, chairman, and G. N. Wilson; Commentator—Mesdames A. C. Rogers, chairman, and G. E. Carpenter.

Mrs. Jessie Southworth of Sanger Brothers at Dallas, is scheduled to be commentator for the event.

Following the business meeting the program was turned over to Mrs. Loader who introduced Tom Davis, Wilbarger County attorney. Mr. Davis distributed papers to the members which contained "Twenty-three Rules on How to Make Your Child a Juvenile Delinquent." This paper was written by a well-known Lutheran preacher and published by the Texas Youth Council. Mr. Davis discussed these ways of withholding companionship and understanding supervision from young people as a sure means of setting their feet on a path of crime.

He went on to describe the Juvenile Court and its functions, telling of the informal atmosphere, privacy and lack of jury trials. He said the findings of juvenile officers resolved into one of three things: a lecture to the delinquent—the most usual procedure, probation to parents or other relatives, and as a last resort—sending the child to the Texas Reformatory for a serious crime or repeated offenses.

In telling of the cases filed by the Juvenile Court in 1951, Mr. Davis said that their number was less than half of those filed in 1950. Little League Baseball, organized last Summer, and Wilbarger County's new Lion's Den, opened in April, 1951, were praised by him, and he said that he believed both had been conducive to the declining juvenile rate here.

At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Davis conducted a question and answer period for the members.

Refreshments of coffee and pie were served by the hostesses to 20 members and three guests, Mrs. Tom Davis, Mrs. Roy Iles and Mrs. Mel Sharp.

Individual club presidents, who are also members of the County Home Demonstration Council, are, left to right, Mrs. Alvin Gloyna, Rayland; Mrs. W. H. Sweatmon of Fargo; Mrs. Emil Kester of Odell; Mrs. O. K. Grimes of Farmers Valley; Mrs. C. C. McCaleb of Elliott, and Mrs. Ernest Dunson of Northside.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

Here is an inexpensive home recipe to take off ungainly weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from any druggist, four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into pint bottle and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back-breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 20 POUNDS

"I want to say I think Barcentrate is wonderful," writes Mrs. R. H. Payne, 1221—9th, Lubbock. "I had tried several other methods of reducing before I tried Barcentrate, but none worked. I have lost 20 pounds with Barcentrate and feel a lot better."

32 POUNDS LOST

"After taking seven bottles of Barcentrate, I have lost 32 pounds."—Mrs. K. C. Weiland, 3702 S. Flores Street, San Antonio.

Remodeling, Decoration Make Older Home Modern

By means of remodeling and modernizing many of the older residences throughout this country are taking on an air of newness and up-to-date livability. An outstanding example of what can be accomplished with an older house is the home of Mr and Mrs. F. J. Pounds at 2529 Sherman St. The roominess typical of house-building in earlier days and the convenience of modern finishing have been combined to create an attractive, comfortable home.

Modern Decor

The large living room is carpeted with a monotone gray wool. Beige and gray striped paper is used on the walls, accented with light gray woodwork. At the windows white marquisette panels are combined with colorful floral side draperies in green, red and gold on pale gray. White and chartreuse scatter rugs add to the colorfulness of the modern decor.

Chartreuse Sectional

The two pieces of the modern sectional sofa are placed on each side of the front entrance. This sofa is fully upholstered in chartreuse frieze and trimmed with matching fringe. A limed oak end table accompanies each section, and a modern Chinese lamp in white, red and black is placed on each table. The limed oak coffee table is topped with green and chartreuse pottery pieces and growing vines.

The opposite wall of the room contains the wide doorway to the dining room, flanked by attractive built-in wall shelves filled with lovely decorative pieces.

Corner Groupings

In one corner on this side of the room are a square step table of limed oak and a red frieze upholstered pull-up chair with blonde wood legs. A crystal lamp with a gold shade stands on the table. Another identical pull-up chair is placed on the other side of this doorway with the limed oak console radio-phonograph. A ceramic bowl and a small brass lamp decorate the top of the console. A large floral picture with a carved wood frame hangs above each of these corner groupings.

Gray Oak Suite

Modern gray oak furnishings are featured in the dining room. Light and dark gray marbelized rubber tile blocks cover the floor, the floral patterned wallpaper is gray and silver and the woodwork is light gray. Curtains and draperies like those in the living room hang at the window.

The attractive gray oak suite includes an extension table, chairs with chartreuse brocaded faille seats, the buffet with a matchingly framed mirror and the glass-doored china cabinet filled with lovely hand-painted china and pottery. A large crocheted doily and a white vase center the dining table, and brass hurricane lamps and other decorative objects top the buffet. Other furnishings in the room are a dark occasional table at the window which holds pottery and growing vines, an old-rose upholstered platform rocker and a dark-finished Windsor chair. Decorative details include a scenic picture on the wall and a white metal stand holding three colorful pots of growing vines.

Cheerful Kitchen

A gay redbird and apple blossom design highlights the upper walls in the large kitchen and breakfast nook. This paper is colored in brown, white, red and green on pastel green. Ivory and green marbelized rubber tile blocks cover the floor with a border trim of green blocks. The lower walls, woodwork and cabinets are pastel green. Green and ivory cross-checked hard plastic is used on the sink cabinet top and curved wood trim and yellow plastic brackets of growing vines decorate the window above. Red plastic curtains hang at the windows. The chrome dinette suite in the breakfast alcove is finished with red plastic. Yellow and red accents about the room include a yellow pottery container of plants on the table and crocheted wall mats.

A comforable sun porch, furnished with easy chairs and occasional furniture, opens from the kitchen.

This view shows the breakfast alcove in the large kitchen. The gay redbird wallpaper on the upper walls is combined with pastel green lower walls and woodwork.

Pink Bedroom

On one side of the house are two bedrooms which have been furnished to complement one another. The back bedroom has dusty pink walls with a slightly deeper pink woodwork. A rose, tan and blue floral carpet covers the floor and a dusty pink scatter rug is placed upon it. Attractive

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at OWEN'S DRUG.

REMODELING--

blue and white alternating panels of marquisette are used at the windows. The blonde traditional suite has contrasting wood trim and includes the poster bed, mirrored vanity, vanity bench with an ivory and rose tweed seat, and chest of drawers. Blue shaded crystal vanity lamps, a white chenille bedspread with a pastel floral design and two pairs of pictures add to the color scheme of the room. A bedroom chair is covered and skirted with an early American print fabric.

Blue Bedroom

The harmonizing front bedroom has powder blue walls with matching woodwork. White ruffled organdy curtains grace the windows, and blue and white scatter rugs are used on the polished hardwood floor. A fringed white hobnail spread covers the panel bed of the dark-finished traditional suite. Other pieces in the suite are a chest-of-drawers, vanity and vanity bench with rose, wine and blue striped seat. A white-enameled window table supports a graceful figurine, and a white Windsor chair provides occasional seating. A pair of floral pictures on the wall, a bed doll and the pink vanity lamps accentuate the pastel color scheme

Yellow Bedroom

On the other side of the house is a bedroom done with yellow walls and woodwork. The curtains are of ruffled white organdy, and white and red scatter rugs are placed on the floor. The dark walnut suite includes a panel bed, chest-of-drawers, vanity and vanity chair with multi-color striped seat. Gold-framed floral pictures hang above the bed which is covered with a white chenille spread patterned with gay colors. A dark-finished occasional table beside the bed supports a black pottery lamp with a red shade. A small dark-finished rocking chair and a window seat-chest complete the furnishings in this cheerful room. The combination seat-chest is covered with a light gray and white checked fabric and topped by colorful red cushions.

This portion of the chartreuse sectional sofa is accompanied by limed oak modern tables which harmonize with the gray and green tones highlighted in the room.

Successful Remodeling

While Mr. and Mrs. Pounds are still contemplating several additions and changes, they have already achieved a modern harmony of color and furnishings in their attractive, roomy house.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.....

TAX EVASION MAY NOT BE SO ATTRACTIVE NOW

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has announced a new policy for handling cases where criminal prosecution is indicated on charges of income tax evasion. In the past it has been the Treasury policy to give out lists of persons under investigation, or otherwise let suspected persons know what was being done and then allow the suspects to "voluntarily" pay up back taxes and penalties. In this way criminal prosecution could be avoided.

This procedure enabled the Treasury Department to collect many millions of dollars without having to resort to court action, according to Secretary Snyder, who declared that there was always a question as to whether the action on the part of suspected tax evaders was really voluntary.

The new procedure will permit reference of cases to the Justice Departments for prosecution by District Councils without having them reviewed at top levels in Washington.

The old Treasury practice brings up a question often confronted when persons are charged with violation of the law. There is a tendency to take no action if the accused makes good where money is involved or agrees to stop his wrongdoing in a particular community if the offense does not involve money. Obviously this practice encourages crime. The lawbreaker is told in advance that if he gets caught he will suffer no greater inconvenience than to repay his ill-gotten gains or be required to transfer his criminal activities to some other community.

Secretary Snyder didn't make public any estimate as to how much the Government has lost through the years by following a policy of permitting tax evaders to escape prosecution. Obviously his agents couldn't check up on all the cases of tax evasion nor could they be sure of getting all the Government is entitled in the cases investigated. As long as there is little danger of criminal prosecution tax evasion will be an attractive way of making money.

WHY HASN'T MR. M'GRATH BEEN ON THE JOB ALL ALONG?

With considerable beating of tom toms and waving of banners President Truman has announced that his much-criticised Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, is going to be in charge of the task of cleaning crooks out of the Government service. This earth-shaking announcement was made at a press conference Thursday

However, one does not have to be overly cynical to see the transparency of the whole thing. Early in December when disclosures of corruption were too much even for an old hand in Kansas City's Pendergast machine, the President cut short his Florida vacation to do something about the stink probing Congressional committees had stirred up. He called some of his top advisers into conference and told the newspapers he would have some big news in a short time. Famed Judge Murphy, prosecutor of Alger Hiss, was called to the White House and invited to head up a commission charged with responsibility of weeding out criminals among the officials and employes of the executive branch of the Government.

The Attorney General was rather obviously in the dog house. His garments were not totally free of the smell of smoke which came from fires centered around some of his assistants, one of whom the President had fired by remote control from his Florida retreat. Rumors were that Mr. McGrath was on his way out. The President had a great deal to say about some of his friends who had let him down. The Attorney General was not specifically mentioned but Mr. Truman could have been thinking about him, since it is the business of the Attorney General to keep people honest while working for Uncle Sam.

But all that has changed, apparently Judge Murphy declined to become official cleaner-up for the Administration, and now after a month the President boldly announces that the Attorney General is going to do his duty.

The two-bit cigar now takes five-cents worth of matches to keep it lit.

There is one sure way of cutting down on criticism — do away with all second guessers.

The average young man selects a solitaire by himself, says a jeweler—and a girl has a finger in it later on.

Lone Star Gas Plans Expansion

Dallas, Jan. 12. (AP)—Lone Star Gas Co. announced today that it had set aside $31,040,400 for enlargement and improvement of its facilities in Texas and Oklahoma in 1952.

President D. A. Hulcy of Dallas said this is the largest amount for this item on their budget in their 42-year history.

The largest single expenditure —$13,535,500—will go for expansion of the transmission system, including connections to new gas fields, connections to new wells in fields already attached, the construction of new delivery facilities and the enlargement of gasoline plant facilities.

The company earmarked $6,671,700 for acquiring new leases an ddrilling wells.

The rest of the money will go for construction of new gas distribuation systems, new distribution mains, service lines, meters, liquefied petroleum gas service tanks and supplies and replacement of distribution lines.

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

Copyright 1951 by Diana Gaines. Used by arrangement with the publishers, Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA SERVICE, Inc.

THE STORY: Jennet Logan meets Peter Surinov at a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Pelletier. There the young biophysicist awakens in Jennet the realization that her own life, as mate of Dr. Logan, older than herself and in ill health, has been empty. On her way home, Jennet tells her husband she will take a volunteer nurse's aide job at Angel's hospital. The next day at the hospital, where she has gone to run errands for Dr. Logan who has a cold and also where she intends to apply for the volunteer job, she meets Peter who asks her to see the work he is doing in the laboratory. As Peter tells her about his work, which may offer a cure for atomic burns, he no longer seems to be a school-boy, nor yet a wizard, but an unsung hero.

PETER SURINOV took Jennet into an adjoining work-room to show her the numerous protective devices. "We check ourselves in several ways," he said, "to make sure we're not getting too much. We get some exposure, of course, and if it's bad, we knock off for a month, but we're pretty careful." There was a monitor apparatus, so delicate that it picked up and constantly buzzed with the cosmic rays in the air, and when Surinov held it to the wall that faced the other room where the radioactive solutions were kept, its buzzing ticks redoubled in mechanical fury. There was something he called a "cutie-pie"—a movable instrument for detecting spillage on dry innocent-looking surfaces. There was the film badge he carried in his pocket to record exposure.

"This piece of camera film," he explained, "is affected by the rays, so when you develop it, the darkness reveals the amount of radiation the body is getting. The more exposure, the blacker the film."

And he showed her, too, the black plastic ring he wore on his finger, which also contained film. He picked up a box and spilled its contents out on a table—dozens of black rings. She slipped one on her index finger. It was far too large. "Show you how we fix that—modern method," he said, and he proceeded to wrap it with adhesive tape. While he fixed the ring for her, she hid the symbolism of their play in idle chatter, "Honestly! 'Cutie-pie. Still, there's something kind of admirable about the American irreverence for danger. Or maybe it's not irreverence, maybe it's a wry acknowledgment. Anyway, it's gallant and I love us for it."

"You'd have loved the Oak Ridgers then. They had some lulus for nicknames. There are about 30-odd meters for detecting gamma rays and almost every one had a slang term. There was the 'Walkie-Squawkie'—that one squawked. And the 'Walkie-Poppie' . . ."

"That popped."

"Smart girl." He continued to pad the ring. "And then there was 'Chang and Eng' after the Siamese twins, and one they called 'Pluto' until the brass in Washington decided it sounded too much like plutonium, which at that time might have been a give-away, so they rechristened it 'Zeus.' I think the slang came from the constant emphasis on secrecy. You begin to be afraid to say any real names out loud and so you made up silly ones as a kind of code. Here, madam, made to order." He slipped the ring on her third finger, turning its face palmward. "That's the way you wear it—with the film case inside. That is, if you want its magic to work. But you don't, so . . ."

SHE continued to look up at him, thinking he was going to say more but he stopped and their eyes locked. She felt the great lurch of her innards and then the sick watering of her bones. Her own lips parted and the air broke in cool pieces in her fevered mouth, and she threw her head back, thinking, "I don't care, if I die for it, I don't care." When she felt his solid lips, solid as if they too had bones, come down on her warm ones, and his arms go solidly around her, she could have cried with loving herself for not having moved away.

Outside, the scene was the same. What had she thought to see—trees creaking in a black wind? One kiss was very little, after all. Now that she was gone from him, she wanted more, much more, everything, again and again and forever and only with him.

She let despair sweep through her, partly because there was solace in melodrama and because it distracted her from the physical longing of which she must rid herself before she could face Peter Surinov again.

Perhaps he already knew from the way she had returned his kiss.

BUT when she heard his voice behind her, she knew that she had not given herself away. It was not the rich baritone of the lecturer. It had picked up sediment, lost authority. "I—I don't know what to say. Won't you just turn around?"

She wheeled slowly, and the sight of him further composed her. She saw him, lank and forlorn, pigeon-toed and baggy-kneed, with his head to one side as if it had been slapped there. Who could feel love for a hangdog? Where was the tall, white-coated superman whose arms had made a cave around her and whose lips had promised everything she knew she was missing?

Her face firmed to a nerveless mold, and she said, "That was stupid of us."

"I know it was. Please don't be mad. I—you're so lovely." His big hands came up and flapped down like a seal's.

"I'm not in the least angry. Don't be silly. But that's that. I happen to be happily married."

Microfilm Gets Detection Role

Rochester, N. Y. (AP)—Use of microfilm in crime detection is reported by the Eastman Kodak Co. Microfilm is the photographic process of putting books and all sorts of other records on compact film strips.

The Detroit police picked up a thief breaking into locked autos and stealing whatever he thought he could pawn. The police had six pawn tickets identifying him. In Michigan pawnbrokers are required by law to make two copies of each pawn ticket, one for the city and the other for state police. Each copy contains the thumbprint of the person.

Upwards of a hundred thousand cards are received monthly, too many to store, and the Detroit police suspected this thief had a long record, probably on the destroyed pawn tickets. They asked the state police, because the latter keep all pawn tickets, permanently, on microfilm.

The six Detroit cards showed that although this thief always signed the same street-Seneca with a different number each time.

The state police took Seneca as their clue and found all the Seneca pawn tickets in the microfilm files. There were 27. Of these 19 had the same thumb print—that of the thief the Detroit police were holding.

COUPONS HIDE CASH

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Harold Parker, of Holbrook, Mass., has been having trouble recently telling money and checks from mere coupons. She sent in 300 premium coupons to the Brown and Williamson Corp., for a tablecloth. Then she got worried and sent the company a letter asking if they had found anything else besides coupons. The company promptly located and returned $632.12 in cash and checks.

THERAPISTS NEEDED

Halifax, N. S. (AP)—More physical and occupational therapists are needed in Nova Scotia, said Dr. W. D. Tevenson, chief neuro-surgeon of the Victoria Hospital, in an address here. He said the whole of Canada has to be supplied with trained therapists from McGill University and the University of Toronto.

Three-quarters of U. S. imports of cobalt come from the Belgian Congo.

EAGER TO HUNT KILLERS

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya. (AP)—When 100 men of the Home Guards were called for to help in the hunt for the killers of British High Commissioner Sir Henry Gurney, more than 400 volunteered, the Malay commander of the Home Guards reports. "It was a hard job to weed them out," he said. "We couldn't just call on one village—the others would have been jealous. So we had to send the call out to several. Many guards have had to go back home disappointed, but they are all on tiptoe in their own villages, longing to have a crack at the killers."

A GROWING HERD

Sleepy Eye, Minn. (AP)—Farmer Edwin Tauer's herd of cattle is growing rapidly. He has three sets of twins in the herd. And the six animals all put in their appearance within a one-month period. "When the third set arrived I thought I might be seeing double," Tauer said.

B&PW Club Says There Are Too Few Courteous Drivers

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Vernon have about decided there are far too few courteous automobile drivers.

Since September, when members of the club began a safety campaign which included the citing of drivers found to be courteous in driving habits, they have made only 54 such awards.

Names of motorists observed by members of the club performing a courteous act have been published each week and certificates sent to the driver.

Members of the club point out that Wilbarger County has approximately 27,000 licensed drivers operating an estimated 9,314 automobiles, trucks and farm vehicles.

Registered in the county are 7,025 passenger cars, 1,215 commercial vehicles and 1,074 farm trucks. In the first three months of the B & P W safety campaign, accidents were reduced on the highways and in the city, but in December a total of 44 traffic accidents were recorded.

Club members issued another appeal today for motorists to practice courtesy on the highways and streets and help to reduce the tragic traffic toll in the country.

Religious Film To Be Screened

The new color film "Fire Upon the Earth" released through the Religious Film Association will be shown Sunday night at 7:00 p. m. the Central Christian Church, it was announced this week by the pastor, Rev. Kenneth L. Teegarden. The film depicts the history of the Protestant Christian Church from its beginning with Christ training the disciples, to its present world-wide outreach.

Rev. Teegarden stressed that it was not a denominational picture but a presentation of the historical development of the universal church. He further added: "It is a film that every Protestant should count both a duty and privilege to see." Among the events and personalities portrayed are Pentecost; the conversion and work of Paul; Constantine's conversion; beginnings of the Roman bishopric; the Crusades; the work of Martin Luther, John Calvin, and John Knox in the Reformation; the story of John Wesley; and the development of Protestantism in America.

"Fire Upon the Earth" accomplishes the unusual feat of condensing 20 centuries of church history into 26 minutes by combining realistic art in full color with incisive narration. A new type of motion picture, camera movements and optical effects are used to give still art pictures an illusion of "action." Dramatic incidents which with actors and dialogue would require many minutes of screen time are effectively presented in a matter of seconds.

The film was "highly recommended" by the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches and W. S. Hockman in "Educational Screen" said of the film, "It gives young people and adults a new comprehension of how the church came to be and how it grew." The public has been invited to the showing of this unusual film, Rev. Teegarden said.

ED HARDING

K&F Club To Hear Noted Speaker Here

There may be a funnier (consciously, that is) man in the United States than Ed Harding, D. L. (the letters after his name stand for Doctor of Laughter) but if so the directors and the members of the Associated Clubs, Inc., of which the Vernon Knife and Fork Club is a member, have never discovered him. They'd like to, however, for to run across another Ed Harding in this Vale of Tears would be like finding a diamond necklace at a hog-rassle. But it is likely to prove to be impossible. There probably "ain't no such animal."

Anyway, the Zany from the land of Cornbread and Collards, will be the next guest speaker of the local organization when it holds its meeting at the Central chool cafeteria on the evening of Jan. 21, 1952 at 7:00 p. m., according to Mr. Ben Boston, the local president.

However, the genial Ed is something quite different from a clown. Beneath his oral horseplay he brings a fine, wholesome message to his audience, but he sugar coats his pills so adroitly that few are aware of the dose which they are swallowing.

Harding may be mad, but there is a purpose to his madness which he never loses sight of even though those who are listening to him are not aware of it. He is as American as wheat cakes and maple sugar, as Southern as hog and hominy; and full of compassionate understanding for his fellow men.

Alleged "humorists" are a dime a dozen, but there is nothing alleged in the Doctor of Laughter's performance, nor off-colored, either. He is as clean and as wholesome as he is funny and his is the sort of entertainment anyone may bring his grandparents to without fear of any embarrassment.

EARNINGS INCREASE

Dallas, Jan. 12. (AP)—Average hourly earnings for the 412,300 factory employes in Texas increased 13 cents an hour from November, 1950, to the same month in 1951, the Department of Labor reported today. During the same period, factory employment in Texas increased by 3,300 workers, according to Brunswick A. Bagdon, Atlanta, regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor. Texas not only showed the top number of manufacturing employes in four Southwestern States, and the greatest increase in factory employment, but the top average hourly wage, Bagdon reported.

THREAT LIFTED

New York, Jan. 12. (AP)—Threat of a wildcat longshoremen's strike, which had been set for today, has been lifted. A strik committee of insurgent members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) voted last night to hold a walkout in abeyance. The dispute is between two ILA factions which caused last Fall's 25-day strike that tied up the port of New York.

RANCH SOLD

Stephenville, Jan. 12. (AP)—O. T. Haden has sold a 1,945-acre ranch, 16 miles east of Stephenville, to Lambert Ward of Big Spring. An announcement yesterday said Ward paid $121,000 for the property on Highway 67. Haden, formerly of San Angelo, bought the ranch about one year ago.

NAMED MANAGER

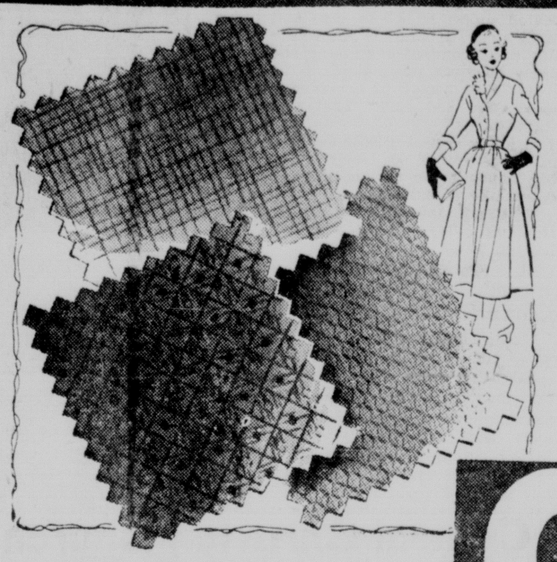

Houston, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Texas Company today announced E. O. Perkins has been named general manager of the supply and distribution department and J. V. C. Malcolmson appointed to succeed Perkins as assistant general manager of Texaco's marine department.
